1845-1855

This side of Henrietta St., west of Light St., is improved by several different groups of two story plus attic, two bay wide brick houses with gable roofs, built by various local house carpenters including William and Samuel Harman. The houses were built contemporaneously with John S. Gittings's similar rows to the south along Hamburg and Light Streets and were intended for a working class market. Many are currently being renovated.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story with attic brick house formed part of an original group of such houses built along this side of Henrietta St. in the 1840's. It is nearly identical to the adjoining group of houses at 15-23 Henrietta St., except for the window lintels and sills.

The house is two and a half stories in height, 13' wide, and occupies a lot 53' deep. The house is two rooms deep with a two story high, two bay deep rear addition, extending back along Harden Court. The house is constructed in running bond. The low-pitched gable roof has a simple, two-tier brick cornice. A double hooded chimney is located along the west side of both the front and rear gables. There is also a rear end chimney, located at the south-west end of the kitchen addition.

The first and second floor door and window openings have segmentally arched brick lintels with scroll-sawed tympanums. The third floor attic windows have no lintels, but do have wood sills. The first and second floor windows have brick header sills. The first and second story windows are filled with 6/6 double hung sash; the attic windows are fitted with a pair of casement windows each, with 2/2 lights in each panel of the casement. A modern six panel door is set beneath a single light transom. The house sits on a fairly low basement, the entrance being reached by two brick steps.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

George C. Addison

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

See under 27-29 Henrietta St.

This particular house was built by George C. Addison, an active builder and developer, as part of his development of this side of Henrietta St. from 15-25 Henrietta St. Unlike most builders of this type of house, Addison did not retain ownership of the houses and then rent them. He instead sold them outright to individual owners. The first owner/occupant of this house was Capt. Henry North who lived here from 1845 until 1859.¹
